

Jon Dalley

Attorney

jdalley@stevensclay.org | (509) 838-8330

Practice Summary

Jon Dalley serves as general counsel for school districts. In that role, he collaborates with administrators and board members about the day-to-day operations of schools, advising them on a range of topics. Some of those topics include employee discipline, employee benefits, collective bargaining, student discipline, special education, school board obligations, and school board policies. He enjoys working with educators to find practical solutions to their problems.

Practice Groups

Labor & Employment; General Counsel

Education

J.D., Gonzaga University School of Law, 2016 summa cum laude

B.A., Idaho State University, 2012

Professional Background

Stevens Clay, P.S., Attorney, June 2016-Present

Gonzaga University General Counsel's Office, Legal Extern, January 2016–May 2016

Patterson Buchanan Fobes & Leitch, P.S., Summer Associate, June 2015–August 2015

Workland & Witherspoon, PLLC, Law Clerk, August 2014–May 2016

Bar Admissions

Washington State Bar, 2016

Personal

Jon is married and has three children, two daughters and a son. He loves spending time with his family—doing whatever. When he isn't working or with his family, Jon likes to run. And he clings to the hope that Gonzaga will win a national championship in basketball someday.